THE VOTE OF NEVADA.

The Eastern gold press, which insist on making the United States a financial dependency of foreign nations, is horror stricken at the idea that the silver producing States, which did not poll in the aggregate more votes than the city of Chicago, should have a dozen United States Senators while Illinois has only two. In its efforts to belittle the silver movement, and especially Nevada where that movement originated, it resorts to misrepresentation and credits this State with only 8,507 votes at the recent election. The fact is Nevada polled over 11,000 votes at the Presidential election according to the most reliable information attainable, but several hundred ballots were rejected by the election boards for informalities, and the returns according to the Western Union Telegraph Company's reports from every county seat in the State show that 10,655 votes were counted for President.

The gold press, notably the Chicago Times-Herald, which is owned by the syndicate that is said to hold $118,000 of the unpaid obligations of Mr. McKinley, and the New York Post, which is owned by an English syndicate, give Bryan's vote as the total vote of Nevada. They seem to think that every vote polled in Nevada was for the free coinage candidate, as it should have been, while in fact over 1,900 voted for McKinley and now when they find there are not offices enough to go around many of them are hating themselves for doing so.

But why this goldbug wall about State representation in the United States Senate? The constitution provides "that the Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the legislature thereof, for six years, and each Senator shall have one vote." Under this provision Nevada is fully as much entitled to two senators as New York or Illinois. If, as the gold press alleged before the election, it was anarchoistic to question the decisions of the Supreme Court, though the court frequently reversed its decisions, is it not revolutionary for the gold press to advocate the disfranchisement of States, which the constitution plainly provides shall have two Senators each? Nevada was admitted into the Union at a time when the Government required the product of its mines to prevent the gold gamblers, who took advantage of the fratricidal struggle in which the nation was engaged, from putting gold at a premium of 500 or 600 per cent. The $450,000,000 produced by the Nevada mines enabled the Government to resume and maintain specie payment when the struggle ended. Every obligation of the Government was made payable in coin, gold or silver. The object of the gold press is to make those obligations payable in gold only and reduce the value of silver, which has been the principal product of Nevada, to the lowest price possible. Every act of Congress for years, which relates to financial affairs, has been a foul blow at Nevada and the other silver producing States, and now when by hostile legislation our principal industry has been paralyzed, our mines closed and once populous towns deserted, the hiring organs of foreign bondholders urge that the constitution be subverted and that the silver producing States because of their scant population be denied representation in the United States Senate.

THE MEETING TO-NIGHT.

Our legislative delegation has called a meeting of citizens at the courthouse this evening to discuss the municipal questions voted upon at the recent election. There should be a general attendance as the questions involved are of the greatest importance to Reno. We want a municipal government according to the vote polled in its favor, and the people were strongly in favor of municipal water works also. As there are various kinds of municipal governments and various methods of supplying the town with pure water the people should determine as near as may be what they want. We could get water from Hunter's Creek or Prosser Creek or the Little Truckee if the people could bear the expense, or pump it from a reservoir somewhere up the river by the Holly system. The pipes now in place and use might be purchased or new pipes laid or arrangements made with the water company to furnish purer water and obviate the necessity of erecting new works. We might incorporate the town so that the government would be comparatively inexpensive or adopt a system that would require more revenue than could be derived from license and taxation to maintain it. In brief a good many things might be done that would not be very satisfactory to the property holders and business men.

Instead of finding fault with what those who attend the meeting might propose or sanction go there yourself and make suggestions and endeavor to get them adopted if you believe them to be for the best interests of the town. If one-fifth of those who voted to incorporate the town and to have the town acquire and operate water works attend there will be a large meeting.

The plague is spreading in India and many natives and several Europeans have died.

SHARKEY STILL LAID UP.

His Physicians Say He Will Be About in a Few Days.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 4.—Tom Sharkey is still confined to his bed, but his physicians say he is doing nicely and that he will be up in a few days, none the worse for the blow which assailed him $10,000 Wednesday night. Fitzsimmons is cheerful and says he will get the purse yet, but Lynch, Sharkey's backer, ridicules Fitzsimmons' expectations.

Lynch has ten days in which to file an answer to the papers filed by Fitzsimmons in court, and the legal battle may be long drawn out. It was expected that Lynch would to-day renew his demand for the payment of the check by the bank, but he did not do so, saying that he is in no hurry for the money and can afford to wait.

Bets on the fight are being paid off to-day. Some pool sellers settled yesterday, and the remaining pool-rooms are paying Sharkey's backers to-day. One bookmaker paid out $27,000 this afternoon to holders of Sharkey tickets.

Referee Wyatt Earp, who was disarmed of a big Colt revolver at the ring, and who was arrested last night charged with carrying a concealed weapon was in the Police Court to-day. Earp asked and obtained a continuance till Tuesday.

A Young Man's Downfall.

CHICAGO, December 4.—The son of a millionaire, bred in luxury, finely educated and liberally endowed with intellect, M. F. Cohen, occupies a cell in the county jail, without a friend and unable to give bail. He is penniless. The prisoner is charged with the larceny of $1,200 from a New York insurance company. George W. Riggs, the local agent, is the complaining witness.

It is said several charges are pending against Cohen in the west.

His arrest this morning on capias recalls the career of Sarah Althea Hill, whose name was coupled with that of Senator Sharon, the California millionaire statesman, in the sensational divorce suit. Cohen is a nephew of the woman, and was a witness at the trial. His father and mother are wealthy citizens of Houston, Texas, and he had all the money he wished. He cut a decided figure in the west and on the coast. As the nephew of the Hill woman, the young man became widely known.

Finally his career of high living came to an end. He was disinherited by his father on account of his misdeeds. Since then he has lived by his wits. It is charged he defaulted bail in Indian Territory, St. Louis, Houston and Galveston.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

East Corinth, a small town in Maine, was almost totally destroyed by fire yesterday.

Mark Hanna has gone to Washington and will probably remain a week at the Capital with a view of establishing local political headquarters.

W. E. Depree, dealer in hardware and farming implements at Waco, Texas, with branch stores in several towns has failed; liabilities, $280,000.

The Central Committee at Hamburg, Germany, ordered a general strike. The dock laborers at Antwerp refuse to unload vessels from Hamburg.

Ambassador Bayard believes that before he leaves England a permanent arrangement for arbitration will be reached between England and the United States.

J. R. Chase, proprietor of the Ocean House, the leading hotel at Santa Cruz, California, filed a petition in insolvency yesterday. The liabilities are $46,303; assets, $29,348.

Fred Bohme, who killed his wife and child last Easter Sunday, was hanged at McLeansboro, Illinois, yesterday. He smashed his wife's skull with an axe and took his three-year-old boy to the barn and hanged him.

W. A. Platt was badly injured while going from his ranch to Petaluma on a bicycle. While riding fifteen miles an hour the front fork snapped, throwing Platt with terrific force against a sharp rock. He was found unconscious.

M. F. Cohen is in jail in Chicago charged with stealing $1,200 from a New York insurance company. Though the son of a millionaire and raised in luxury, and a bright, intelligent man, he is friendless and penniless and cannot give bail.

The expert accountant for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Reorganization Committee reports that he finds among other things an over-statement of the net income amounting to $2,721,067 from June 30, 1891, to June 30, 1893, and that of the $6,260,000 paid in dividends in that period only $971,446 was earned.

The river is falling at Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin, and it is believed the worst is over. An ice gorge at Monmouth, Michigan, has caused the stream to overflow its banks in several places, and caused it to change its course in one place. Much property has been destroyed. At Kashena Falls, Wisconsin, the ice is piled up thirty feet high and the falls are covered.

A pitched battle was fought in the streets of Angeles Camp, California, between two officers and a desperado named Robert Hinman, who is wanted at Roseburg for breaking jail and shooting a deputy sheriff. Before the officers were prepared to arrest him he ran up the street, which was full of people, the officers following him and firing at him. At almost every step Hinman would turn and fire at the officers until he disappeared in the darkness. It is thought he was wounded.

PAIN'S CELERY COMPOUND.

The Best Remedy in the World—It Makes People Well.

There is one true specific for diseases arising from impure blood and a debilitated nervous system, and that is Paine's celery compound, so generally prescribed by physicians. It is probably the most remarkable remedy that the scientific research of this century has produced. Prof. Edward E. Phelps M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, first prescribed what is now known the world over as Paine's celery compound, a positive cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, all nervous diseases and kidney troubles. For the latter Paine's celery compound has succeeded again and again where everything else has failed.

THE CATTLE AND MEAT TRADE.

Of the live stock arriving in the United Kingdom during the first six months of 1896 the United States supplied 75 per cent of the cattle and 45 per cent of the sheep. The representatives of the Department of Agriculture abroad report that cattle from the United States arrived at English ports in excellent condition, and the Glasgow market is especially commended to American shippers.

Notwithstanding the fact that 75 per cent of all the beefs imported into England are shipped from the United States, proving that England can get cheaper meat here than in any other country, politicians attempt to create the impression among cattlemen that the low price of beefs for several years past was due to the low tariff on cattle.

Dynamite Dick, an Oklahoma outlaw, for whose head a reward of $3,000 was offered, was shot and killed in a fight with deputy sheriffs near Newkirk yesterday. Dan Cravens, one of Dick's band, was badly wounded and captured.

Sharkey, the prize fighter, is still confined to his bed in San Francisco. He has not yet received the $10,000 and Fitzsimmons says he shall not receive it if he can prevent it.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

DUST TO DUST—ASHES TO ASHES.

The funeral of the late E. A. Schulze, one of the largest ever held in Reno.

Yesterday was a sad day in Reno. Edward A. Schulze, who's untimely death cast a gloom over the town, was to be buried, and as the hour set for the funeral drew near words of the deepest sympathy for the grief-stricken young wife and her family were expressed on every hand and the poor mother on the other side of the continent, who had hoped and prayed for her boy's success was not forgotten. Many a heart went out to her in her hour of anguish. Expressions were frequently heard of how deep her grief must be at the thought of the child she had born and whom she had so loved dying away from home among strangers. No not strangers, for his friends here were numbered only by the residents of the town in which he had lived. A wife, of less than a year, soothed the pangs of that awful parting as the moments drew near when they must forever be separated. The wife's family, each of whom had learned to love the poor boy as they did each other, were near at hand and his class of bright boys and girls in the High with bowed heads and smothered sobs showed more than an ordinary grief at the loss of their teacher.

E. A. Schulze was buried under the auspices of Reno Lodge E. & A. M., of which he was a new and the youngest member. Amity Lodge No. 8, Knights of Pythias, the members of which held the young man in high esteem and out of respect for his father-in-law, J. F. Aitken, who is a member of the order, was represented by over thirty Knights. The Eastern Star Lodge also sent a large delegation and over two hundred school children and the teachers of the public schools were present.

The musical fraternity of which Mr. Schulze was an honored member, was represented by a splendid band of twenty pieces and a choir consisting of Dr. W. A. Phillips, C. F. Cook, Mrs. Layton and the Misses Layton, Miss Monroe and Mrs. Botsford, organist.

The remains were escorted from the late residence of the deceased to the Baptist Church, where Rev. N. L. Freeman, the pastor, conducted impressive services. "Nearer My God To Thee" and "Lead Kindly Light" were rendered by the choir and at the conclusion of the services at the church big strong men could be seen weeping. The procession was formed and headed by the band, it moved to the Hillside Cemetery where the Masonic burial service, was conducted by A. D. Bird, master of the lodge, and all that was mortal of the poor boy was consigned to mother earth. The choir sang "We Shall Meet Beyond The River" and "Go Bury Thy Sorrows," and all was over.

There were a number of floral pieces, all of which were very beautiful and appropriate. E. A. Schulze has solved the mystery and while his mission on earth is ended his good example and kindly ways will ever remain a pleasant memory among all who knew him.

POSTMASTER REMOVED.

Advocating Free Coinage as Serious as Stealing.

The President has made the following changes in postmasters:

Charles Raymond appointed, vice David P. Leary removed. Leary was charged with going out of his jurisdiction to sell stamps and postal supplies, so as to increase the receipts of his office and raise his salary and allowances. This is regarded as a serious violation of the rules, and works to the detriment of the office.

L. W. Morris, appointed at Mexico, Missouri, vice John W. Mason, removed. The summary removal of Postmaster Mason was due to pernicious activity in politics. He believes in free coinage and was therefore objectionable to the powers that be.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

A Remarkable Weather Month—Reversals of Forces From 1st to 6th.

(Copyright, 1896, by W. T. Foster.)

St. Joseph, Mo., Dec. 4.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from the 4th to 8th, and 10th to 14th.

The next disturbance will reach the Pacific Coast about 15th, cross the west of the Rockies country by the close of the 16th, the Great Central Valleys from the 17th to 19th, and the Eastern States the 20th.

The storm wave will cross the west of the Rockies country about the 15th, great central valleys 17th, Eastern States 19th. The cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about the 18th, great central valleys 20th, Eastern States 22d.

This disturbance will occur in the low temperature storm period and the temperatures will average below the normal of the month. About the dates covered by this disturbance the coldest part of the month will be due.

Temperature of the week ending 12th will average about normal and the rainfall will be above the normal.

All the above forecasts are made under conditions. December, 1896, will be an unusual weather month and I have expected the magnetic forces of the earth to be reversed 1st to 6th. The peculiar relative positions of the sun, earth, moon and planets are such as to make it quite difficult to determine on what date the reversal will occur and I have deemed it best to give the weather in its regular order.

Watch for the reversals and continuing from that date for two to four weeks the weather changes will be almost exactly the reverse of what is stated in the forecasts of this bulletin.

I do not expect to continue these conditional forecasts as I will soon be able to correctly calculate these reversals. Hope that this will be the last conditional forecast it will be necessary for me to make.

The weather of January will come in the regular order, or direct as we call it to distinguish it from the reversals. February will be full of reversals and I expect to be able to correctly forecast them.

My forecast of general features of November weather were remarkably well fulfilled. High temperatures in the first week, a great fall in temperatures, heavy snows and rain second week, a temporary rise in temperatures in the first part of the third week, and another great fall the last part of the third week, high temperatures with small amount of rain near the 25th and 26th were accurately forecasted and the result must be remembered by all who carefully observe weather changes. Cold of 27th went below calculations.

One point should be carefully noted by interested readers. In two-thirds of the months weather changes are direct, or come in regular order, while in one-third of the months the changes are reverse, or come exactly opposite to the regular order in every respect. There are no half way changes. When the reversals come the changes are turned exactly upside down.

The point to be noted is that for September, October and November no reversals were predicted and none occurred. For August and December reversals were predicted. They came in August; will they come in December?

AMERICANS AS MUSICIANS.

Mme. Calve Says They Have the Characteristics of the Conquering Race.

Mme. Emma Calve contributes a paper on the "Conquering Race in Music" to The Ladies' Home Journal, in which she specially addresses students of vocal music. She tells of the training required for the operatic and the concert stage, the impersonation of character, the value of suggestions, etc., and pays this tribute to Americans: "The Americans have, it seems to me, in the field of music, and especially in the field of vocal music, all of the characteristics of the conquering race. They are possessed naturally of the most exquisite voices, which, when properly cultivated and trained, are almost unrivaled. They have indomitable energy, perseverance and pluck. They stop at nothing and are deterred by no trouble and prevented by no obstacle."

"Poverty, weariness, exertion, hard work—none of these living specters which alight and terrify the average workman has terrors for them. Their physique and their temperament seem made for toil and to surmount discouragement, and the success which they are daily achieving, in the field of both operatic and concert singing, is testimony to their natural fitness for accomplishment and to their ability to excel. They seem, in fact, to be most lavishly fitted by nature for the parts they are assuming. To those gifts of voice, energy, pluck and perseverance they frequently add a beauty of face and grace of form and movement which the public recognizes as most important factors in the success of the singer's career. They have, too, the temperament which makes great artists and great actresses, the artistic feeling which has for its standard perfection and which is satisfied with nothing less."

Chas. B. Hood, Broker and Manufacturer, Agent, Columbus, Ohio, certifies that Dr. King's New Discovery has no equal as a cough remedy. J. D. Brown, proprietor of St. James Hotel, Fort Wayne, Ind., testifies that he was cured of a cough of two years standing, caused by La Grippe, by Dr. King's New Discovery. B. F. Merrill, Baldwinville, Mass., says that he has used and recommended it and never knew it to fail, and would rather have it than any doctor, because it always cures. Mrs. Hemming, 222 E. 25th street, Chicago, always keeps it at hand and has no fear of croup because it instantly relieves. Free trial bottles at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

Diphtheria Cure.

The testimony of a prominent physician:

FOUNTAIN CITY, Ind., June 17, 1895.

This certifies that I have been using V. O. in my practice. I have never found any medical preparation in 46 years of practice that is calculated to do so much good in so wide a range of diseases and leave no after bad effects. In Diphtheria it has proved a perfect specific in my hands, and I had rather depend on it alone in that dreadful disease than the whole popular Materia Medica with that left out.

Without exertion, weak, weary and depressed. This is the pitiable condition of thousands at this season. It is due to impoverished blood. The vital fluid has become loaded with impurities and depleted in quality. It leaves the system

Weak

Because the blood is the means nature provides for supplying nerves, organs and tissues with nourishment, and health and vigor cannot be expected when the blood is thin and impure. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for this weakness, because it enriches the blood. It cures

Nervous

Troubles by feeding the nerves upon pure, rich blood. It overcomes that tired feeling, creates an appetite and gives refreshing sleep. If you want to feel well you must have pure blood. You may have pure blood and good health by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by its unequalled record of cures has won the first place among medicines.

Life in Great Cities.

And as to the tendency of the growth of great cities to enervate nations, there is no proof of it at all unless we identify the life of great cities with the passion for idleness and pleasure and self-indulgence, which sometimes, but by no means universally, accompanies their growth. When you get a large proletarian living, as that of ancient Rome and possibly of Nineveh and Babylon did, on the alms of the rich and powerful, then no doubt you have the conditions of a thoroughly unnatural and unhealthy life, and no one can wonder at the rapid decay of such cities and of the nations which gloried in them. But where the honest working class far outnumber the idlers, and where the middle classes and professional men are laborious and energetic, and even the class that lives on its accumulated wealth contains a considerable sprinkling of serious and disinterested workers, we do not believe that there is the slightest evidence of any greater danger in the life of the agricultural village or the pastoral tribe. Indeed, we should regard Oliver Schreiner's picture of the life of the modern Boers as indicating a condition of things more prolific of morbid elements, with its almost complete absence of any stirring or active intelligence, than any kind of modern life that is honestly laborious at all. The Boer life is too slopy, too destitute of stirring thought or effort, to be altogether natural. It needs at least the old element of danger and necessary vigilance to render it even breeding.—London Spectator.

Contributors to Magazines.

One contributor states that he is a "gentleman" wishing to go abroad on a historical and antiquarian tour through Normandy, the only difficulty being that he has not sufficient means to accomplish his object. He therefore requests my father to send him £12 at once, and he, the writer, will immediately start and contribute gratuitously, he says, to The Cornhill an account of his journey. He trusts that if my father cannot do this he will make some other arrangement. The contributor thinks of going by Rouen, Caen, Bayeux, St. Michel and returning by Tours and Orleans. "You will perceive," he says, "that this is an original tour and contains many interesting points." "Honored and admired sir," writes another to John Ruskin in language from the depths of the country, "in the writer of this letter you would behold the unlovely, unfortunate and unworthy contributor of some poetical subjects to your influential and extensive Cornhill Magazine. Indeed, I have but received a day or two ago such a piece returned, I now try my hand at prose and send you a paper for the May number of the magazine." (The letter is dated March 27, and the editor and printers would have to bestir themselves.) "If the manuscript is returned," says the author, "I will send the postage necessary. May such a contingency be far off."—Cornhill Magazine.

Kept His Head.

It is not safe to joke among oriental people, unless you understand their manners and customs. Lord Charles Bunsford, who accompanied the Prince of Wales in India, relates a funny incident of the journey, which just escaped being a tragic one.

"We were elephant shooting in Ceylon," he says, "and were driving back to Colombo, when the horses in the wagonette showed signs of fatigue. Lord Aylesbury, who was on the box, took the reins from our Tamil coachman, whereupon the animals averred just as we were crossing a rude bridge, and the whole equipage, passengers and all, were precipitated into the nullah below.

"No one was hurt. I playfully belabored the coachman with a bundle of elephants' tails and then told him to mount the box. At the same time I turned to the Malay sergeant and said in solemn tones:

"'Out that man's head off.'

"Ho, thinking it an awful crime to upset the prince, instantly drew his saber and rushed at the coachman under good English and scrambled on to a ledge of rock out of reach. Seeing that my joke had nearly caused a catastrophe, I called out to the sergeant:

"'The prince has graciously pardoned him. Let him come down.'

So the coachman kept his head on his shoulders, and there was no harm done, but if he had not understood English and had not got out of the way! As our English friends themselves are wont to remark, "Only fawney!"

Pressure at the Earth's Center.

The philosophers who have figured on the condition of things at the earth's center give opinions which vary widely. Some think that the earth's interior is composed of white hot molten matter. Others are of the opinion that the pressure is so great that all substances have been condensed beyond our powers of conception. Dr. Young goes so far as to say that a block of steel 10 feet square would be pressed into a block only 2 feet square if taken 4,000 miles below the earth's surface.

THIS IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY.

On receipt of ten cents, cash or stamps, a generous sample will be mailed of the most popular Catarrh and Hay Fever Cure (Ely's Cream Balm) sufficient to demonstrate the great merits of the remedy.

ELY BROTHERS, New York City.
56 Warren St., New York City.

Rev. John Reid, Jr., of Great Falls, Mont., recommended Ely's Cream Balm to me. I am now using it and find it a most effective cure for catarrh if used as directed."—Rev. Francis W. Fools, Pastor Central Pres. Church, Helena, Mont.

Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for catarrh and contains no mercury nor any injurious drug. Price, 50 cents.

Another on the List.

"Hello, Stinson, what's all that whistling about? Not trying to raise the wind, are you?"

"No," said Stinson, unpacking his mouth from a violent effort to produce "Benny Havens, Oh." "I am merely reviving old melodies."

"But I never before even suspected you of being musical," and his friend looked anxious.

"Oh, I say, hang it, can't a fellow whistle without being called to task about it?"

"Not when whistling is so seldom heard that it is in danger of becoming one of the lost arts."

"Well, I must own up, I see. I am not whistling for amusement, nor for the music that's in it. I am whistling for my health."

"Your health? Nonsense!"

"There's no nonsense about it. Look at my chest. It has increased two inches in girth since I began to whistle. The expiring gas I exhale, I have expanded the muscles, and the pull on the ribs has strengthened them, and my general health is benefited. You see, I have employed a new method of compressed air treatment."

"You mean that you have added one more to the list of cranks."

"Nothing of the kind. But I have given the idiots who are always asking fool questions, one more question for their repertoires. S'long."—Detroit Free Press.

An Accipiter's Story.

Mr. Morrison recounted two anecdotes in his experiences in playing Faust. At one place the tragedian through which he disappears in the fifth act refused to work, and, to use his expression, "his phum stood erect."

"Can't you open it?" he asked in an excited tone.

There was an awful pause for a moment, when away in the gallery somebody sang out:

"Holy Moses, hell's full!"

At another time, while breakfasting at a hotel, he noticed that the colored waiter who brought him his meal kept staring at him. He told the waiter that he might go. "When, I need you," he added, "I will send for you."

"Need me?" exclaimed the waiter in evident recollection of Mephisto. "Say, Mr. Morrison, I went to your show last night."

"And how did you like it?"

"Like it? Say, Mr. Morrison, that last scene was awful. But one thing I couldn't see. I couldn't see any nigger in hell!"—New York Letter.

Holmes and Kerr.

Of the many anecdotes illustrating the genial humor and prodigious memory of Oliver Wendell Holmes, the following was related by one of the poet's classmates, John Bosman Kerr of Maryland:

Mr. Kerr was an aristocratic in his notions as Holmes himself, and was so unusually particular about the spelling of his name that it became a laughing matter with the students. Twenty years after the class had graduated Mr. Kerr had occasion to visit Boston, and while there called upon his old classmate, then grown famous. When Mr. Kerr was ushered into Holmes' study, the poet hurried toward him, and, seizing his old friend with both hands, cried heartily, "Welcome to Boston, John Bosman Kerr!" "Welcome to Boston, John Bosman Kerr!" as fast as he could spell it.—Washington Post.

His Only Joke.

John Anthon, who lives in law libraries between the covers of an old calfskin treatise labeled "Anthon's Nisi Prius," was a gentleman of solemn visage, solemn mien, and solemn address while at the bar. But he was known in a moment of impatience to be once funny. Opposed to a lawyer named Edmund J. Forrest, he began his address to the jury by saying, "Now, gentlemen, I shall ask your aid to bottle up Forrest," who quickly responded, "If they do, I shall foam."—Green Bag.
